This image depicts a baby seated in a soft, padded chair, surrounded by several pieces of camping equipment. The baby is wearing a cowboy hat and appears to be asleep, with one hand supporting his head while the other rests on a pair of binoculars. Beside the chair is a small table with an old-fashioned lantern on it, and another lantern has been placed on the floor nearby. Also, on the floor to the right is a pair of dark boots. Judging from the baby's peaceful expression, the scene suggests a dream of future adventures. (95 words)

This scene portrays a group of children riding in a cart pulled by a pair of donkeys along a dirt road in a flat, open landscape. A man, who is probably their father, is standing by the donkeys, and it seems that they have stopped to give the animals a rest. They may have been traveling for a long time, and they have very few belongings with them, so perhaps they are a family of refugees who have lost almost everything in war and are searching for a safe place to live. This surreal image depicts a giant model of a human mouth being “repaired” by miniature construction workers. The scene seems to portray a busy construction site, featuring two forklifts, traffic cones, a pedestrian warning sign, and various tools. Around the teeth, several tiny figures are hard at work, treating the mouth like a building under maintenance. This creative picture suggests that dental hygiene is a massive, ongoing project. It is a humorous and impressive way to remind people of the importance of taking care of their teeth. (87 words)
